Yellowstone National Park

Yellowstone is America's first national park, and it's easy to see why. The park is home to an incredible array of natural wonders, including geysers, hot springs, and waterfalls. It's also home to a variety of wildlife, including bears, wolves, and bison.

Yosemite National Park

Yosemite is another iconic national park in the Western region. The park is known for its towering granite cliffs, cascading waterfalls, and giant sequoia trees. It's a great place to go hiking, camping, and rock climbing.

Grand Canyon National Park

The Grand Canyon is one of the most awe-inspiring sights in the world. The canyon is 277 miles long, 18 miles wide, and over a mile deep. It's a great place to go hiking, rafting, and camping.

Other Places to Visit in the Western Region

In addition to the national parks, there are many other great places to visit in the Western region. Here are a few ideas:

- Visit the Golden Gate Bridge in San Francisco
- Explore the redwood forests of Northern California
- Go surfing in Southern California
- Visit the Hoover Dam on the border of Nevada and Arizona
- Explore the canyons of Utah

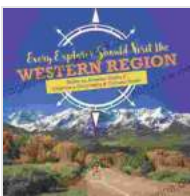

- Visit the Badlands of South Dakota
- Go skiing in the Rocky Mountains
- Visit the National Cowboy & Western Heritage Museum in Oklahoma City
