Starbucks' Upstanders Season 2 is an original series that shines a light on the inspiring stories of individuals who have taken a stand against social injustice. These everyday heroes come from all walks of life and have faced adversity with resilience, determination, and a unwavering commitment to making a difference in the world.

The Power of Storytelling

The Upstanders series is a powerful example of the power of storytelling to inspire and motivate. By sharing the stories of these brave individuals, Starbucks aims to encourage viewers to find their own voice and take action in their communities.

The series highlights the importance of standing up for what is right, even when it is difficult. It also demonstrates the power of community and the transformative impact that can be achieved when people come together to work towards a common goal.

Meet the Upstanders

The Upstanders Season 2 features a diverse cast of individuals who are making a difference in their communities. These include:

- Jermaine Johnson: A former NFL player who founded the nonprofit "Elevate Connection" to provide support and mentorship to underprivileged youth.
- Dr. Jihan Thompson: A public health advocate who works to address racial disparities in health outcomes.
- Maria Teresa Kumar: A political strategist and activist who works to empower women and girls.
- Pastor Michael McBride: A social justice activist who works to bridge divides in communities.
- Shareefah bint Abdullah: A Muslim community leader who works to promote interfaith dialogue and understanding.

Impact and Legacy

The Upstanders series has had a significant impact on viewers and communities around the world. The stories of these upstanders have inspired countless individuals to take action and make a difference in their own lives and communities.

The series has also helped to raise awareness of important social issues and has sparked important conversations about race, gender, equality, and justice.

Starbucks' Upstanders Season 2 is a powerful and inspiring series that celebrates the courage, resilience, and determination of everyday heroes. By sharing these stories, Starbucks hopes to inspire viewers to find their own voice and take action to make a positive impact in the world.
